HOSPITALITY

Located just moments from Augusta National, Your Golf Travel's exclusive hospitality facility is the perfect addition to your Masters experience both before, during and after your day at the golf.

The US Masters is the iconic golfing experience. So if you are going to do it then do it properly, the Your Golf Travel way! Every valued customer will receive access to our free hospitality marquee which is located right outside Augusta National. Inside you will find free food and drink all day as well as large TV screens showing The Masters. Also, if you are attending the Masters on the Saturday or staying in Augusta then you will be automatically invited to the famous Your Golf Travel Masters Party on Saturday night which was hosted in 2017 by Darren Clarke and Sky's David Livingstone. Finally, for help with golf, dinner reservations or anything else there will be access locally to our concierge service where you will be looked after by one of our 20 strong team. We will ensure your Masters Experience is the best it can be!

EXPERIENCES TAILORED TO YOUR NEEDS

All of our Masters Experiences are hand-picked by our expert team who all have experience of The Masters and the surrounding areas. We have tried to cater for a wide range of tastes from 1 day at The Masters to a fully blown luxury experience with golf!

MYRTLE BEACH

Myrtle Beach welcomes over 3 million visitors each year with the allure of over 100 spectacular courses, picture perfect beaches and an excellent year-round climate.

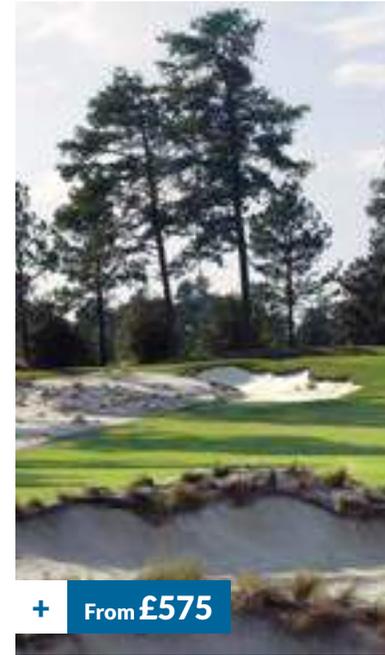

HILTON HEAD

From Harbour Town Links and The Sea Pine Resort to the three layouts at Palmetto Dunes, Hilton Head boasts its fair share of world renowned golf courses, as well as breathtaking beaches and luxurious resorts.

KIAWAH ISLAND

The fearsome Ocean Course at Kiawah Island is arguably the star of the golfing show in South Carolina, while a further 4 championship courses laid down by the likes of Jack Nicklaus, Tom Fazio and Gary Player make it an even more attractive proposition.

PINEHURTS

Home to no less than 9 championship golf courses and impressively extensive practice facilities; Pinehurst, regarded as “The Home of American Golf”, is quite simply one of the best resorts in the whole of the USA.

SAWGRASS

Sawgrass is home to one of the most iconic holes in world golf, but there’s more to write home about here than just the famed island green Par 3 17th. The rest of the TPC Stadium Course is simply world class and a great test for all golfers.

AUGUSTA

For those looking to enjoy the ultimate US Masters experience, where better to base yourself than Downtown Augusta? With both of our recommended hotels located just 15 minutes from Augusta National, they are perfect for anyone looking to be at the heart of the action at all times and allow you to arrive at the course early to secure a spot at one of our recommended viewing spots on the course.

Hotels in Downtown Augusta are also surrounded by a number of fantastic restaurants and vibrant bars, allowing you to carry the fun on long into the night and during your time away from the golf courses and US Masters, why not take a stroll along the Augusta Riverwalk, taking in gardens, museums and perhaps even a children's playground if you're travelling with your family in tow?

An aerial photograph of the University of Georgia's Old Capitol building, a large, light-colored, classical-style building with a prominent green dome and a clock tower. The building is surrounded by lush green trees and a paved plaza. In the background, other campus buildings and a parking lot are visible under a dramatic sunset sky with orange and blue hues. The word "ATHENS" is overlaid in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters at the bottom of the image.

ATHENS

Situated approximately 90 minutes from Augusta National, Athens is a vibrant yet laid-back college town with a world-famous music scene, responsible for the likes of the B-52s, R.E.M. and Widespread Panic. During Masters week the atmosphere is electric, especially if Bubba Watson is in contention, with the eccentric 2-time Masters champion having spent his college years honing his unique golf skills at the University of Georgia.

As such it's a superb base for any Masters golf holiday, and after a day spent strolling the fairways at Augusta National, there's not much that can top an evening out in the pleasant, walkable downtown area where you'll find a burgeoning restaurant culture, as well as plenty of vibrant bars where the university spirit is alive and well, allowing you to carry the fun on long into the night if you so wish. If you're looking for an evening of revelry, you can't pass up the chance to visit the world famous 40 Watt Club.

AIKEN

Founded in 1835, the city of Aiken is located just inside the South Carolina border, and about 40 minutes from Augusta National itself, making it an ideal base for anyone attending The Masters. During your time away from the event, you can shop, dine, and catch live music to your heart's content, or simply stroll the quaint downtown streets while gazing at the majestic oak canopies. There is a strong equestrian culture here, and polo matches and fox hunts are a way of life, but this is also home to one of the USA's largest urban forests and there's a thriving art scene too, with visual performers in front of almost every store creating a unique and intriguing atmosphere.

The Holiday Inn Express is a fantastic family friendly hotel and is one of the closest to Augusta National that we offer, making it a brilliant option for any avid golf fans looking never to stray too far from the action during their stay.

COLUMBIA

One of the most popular bases for Masters experiences, Columbia offers golfers a unique city experience within easy reach of both Augusta (60 minutes) and Charlotte airport (90 minutes). As South Carolina's biggest city, golfers can expect a wealth of offcourse activities to enjoy whilst away from The Masters. Whether it is sport, Columbia is home to one of the country's college football teams, or relaxation, within the picturesque Congaree National Park which is around 30 minutes from downtown; Columbia offers such an array of options it is easy to see why so many golfers head here each April. Those seeking a local culinary experience can enjoy the bountiful seafood restaurants, where you can sample the freshest of ingredients including shrimps to oysters, as well as world famous barbeque and the official state snack of boiled peanuts or the unofficial snack of The Masters in a Pimento cheese sandwich. For a taste of the local ale, head to one of the many microbreweries of Columbia. The Hunter-Gatherer Brewery and Ale House combines a great selection of drinks as well as great food including South Carolina Littleneck Clams.

With 2 brilliant hotels and plenty of fun to be had away from the golf course, Columbia is the perfect place to enjoy a family trip to the Masters.

An aerial photograph of the Reynolds Plantation resort. The image shows a large, multi-story resort building complex surrounded by dense green trees. To the right, a large, well-maintained golf course is visible, featuring several sand traps and a green. The resort is situated on the edge of a large body of water, with a dock and several boats visible in the foreground. The sky is overcast with grey clouds.

REYNOLDS PLANTATION

A fantastic 5 star resort with an amazing array of state of the art facilities, the Ritz Carlton Reynolds Plantation is the perfect for anyone looking for a high end and luxurious place to stay during The Masters. Situated just 70 minutes from Augusta National the hotel is a fantastic option for both amilies and groups of friends as it boasts a fantastic choice of high quality dining that utilises local ingredients with international flavours. Pre or post dining the most popular spot is the Lobby Lounge with a choice of fireside tables and lakeside views making this a relaxing spot to top off a memorable day at The Masters.

Those staying at Ritz Carlton Reynolds Plantation will get to experience 90 holes of award winning championship golf as well as a host of leisure pursuits including tennis, a luxuriant spa and a plethora of water activities courtesy of its location on the banks of Lake Oconee.

On the whole, this a fabulous resort is in a beautiful setting and gifts guests with not only wonderful accommodation but also fantastic access to golf's biggest tournament.
